

Hope For Reduction In Taxes Is Pinned On Director Dawes

Republicans Hope Budget Head Will Find Way to Cut Expenditures.
WANT TAX LEVIES REDUCED
Business Depression Is Responsible for Decrease in U. S. Income.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington. — The hopes of the house ways and means committee that taxes can be reduced this year now are pinned on "Hill and Maria" Dawes, director of the budget. The committee is expected to make a report on the year's governmental expenditures $1,000,000,000 below the $4,550,000,000 estimate of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the committee probably will ask Dawes to seek a program by which this economy can be effected.

The secret hope of the committee is that Dawes will let fly some of his choicest "cuss" words at those responsible for government extravagance and then "use the axe" in cutting off their appropriations. Dawes probably will appear before the committee within the next few days.

Republican leaders of the house, as the result of the dark picture of the government financial situation given the committee Thursday by Secretary Mellon realize it will be most difficult to make good their promise of reducing taxes by $500,000,000. Upon Mellon's estimates of expenditures, taxes must be increased $250,000,000.

To cut taxes $500,000,000 the new revenue bill must not yield more than $3,000,000,000. The revenue revision program suggested by Mellon with the several new taxes will yield approximately $5,565,000,000.

If expenditures can be cut to $3,750,000,000 or $3,804,000,000 under the Mellon estimate, the $500,000,000 cut in taxes could be accomplished.

In addition to $3,000,000,000 which would be provided in the new tax bill, the Fordney tariff is expected to bring in $370,000,000 if passed by January 1, and $350,000,000 will come from the salvage of war material.

The marked business depression is in large measure responsible for the present difficult fiscal problem which confronts the government. The present taxes, at the height of war profits, yielded about $6,900,000,000 a year. Today the same rates are bringing in only $3,570,000,000 annually, according to the Mellon estimates.

VETS WANT HARDING TO SAVE THEIR HOME

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee, Wis.—Seven hundred civil war veterans ordered to be camped from the Milwaukee soldiers' home to make way for the sick world war veterans, may appeal to President Harding to have the order rescinded.

"You see I can't go very well," explained Thomas Collins, 96 resident at the home for 25 years. "I have got my grave dug. It's been dug some years now. You ought to see it. The flowers are nice and the flags look real pretty."

Fully 90 per cent of the veterans who must go to Danville, Ill. Leavenworth, Kan. or Hampton, Va. have relatives residing near them and the move is breaking up family ties for them they said.

Officials of the home see no chance of changing the plan of the government to convert soldiers' home into a tubercular hospital for world war veterans in order to allow the civil war vets to die amid familiar surroundings.

POLICE ARREST ANOTHER MEMBER OF CRIME RING

Chicago, Ill.—Police Friday seized another member of the alleged million dollar swindle ring, said to be headed by John W. Worthington.

Charles W. French who was indicted with Worthington was arrested in a raid on a hotel. With him was Alva Hurshman, Milwaukee, who was arrested Thursday.

French is being guarded by police and will be arraigned before Federal Judge Landis today.

Worthington, who ran a securities office with his partner Owen Evans, was still in jail Friday while police endeavored to arrest their alleged confederates.

Thefts of millions in securities and registered mail are laid to the band, according to postal inspectors.

SMALL SHIFTS CAPITAL OF ILLINOIS TO CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill.—Governor Len Small, indicted for alleged juggling of millions in state funds, will give up inspection of state roads Friday to come to Chicago for an address at the Pageant of Progress.

Governor Small was given no indication when he will return to Springfield, where the sheriff has warrants for his arrest.

Since the warrants were issued the governor has been inspecting the roads of Illinois, staying out of the jurisdiction of Sangamon county.

Following the speech here Saturday, Small will return to his home at Kankakee where he will spend the week end, after which he will resume his tour.

U. S. BASES HER PEACE CLAIMS ON PART IN WAR

Other Nations Tacitly Acquiesce in Attitude of Secretary Hughes.
LEAGUE KEEPS HANDS OFF

Refuses to Meddle With Matters Occurring Before League Was Organized.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—The United States government is making a separate treaty with Germany.

The treaty of Versailles will not be submitted to the senate with or without reservations.

The new pact with Germany will be a peace treaty only in the sense that it will formally end the state of war between the United States and Germany but it will really amount to a treaty of amity and commerce.

Germany has not been asked to reaffirm the treaty of Versailles or to grant under the Versailles pact grant again to the United States specifically all the rights which she gave America under the Versailles treaty.

The United States hasn't asked the allied powers to sign a new treaty.

All the foregoing statements represent developments in the most complex legal controversy that has ever faced our government and if they seem to contradict expectations of the past they must be taken as the latest turn in a negotiation which has required our officials a turn from one expedient to another to put an end to the state of war between Germany and the United States.

Briefly the United States doesn't abandon the rights given her under the treaty of Versailles. She still claims them but not by virtue of an American president's signature at Paris but because of America's participation in the war. The United States government doesn't ask Germany to reaffirm anything and doesn't ask the allies to concede anything.

The proposed increase in insurance rates of 50 per cent advocated for the order has forced the delegates to work overtime. Decision on the matter before Saturday was doubtful.

A resolution was adopted to be sent to President Harding, the premier of Canada, the king of England, De Valera, and several members of the United States senate and house of representatives, stating that the Foresters unanimously recognize the right of Ireland to complete independence, but will be willing to lend their support to any compromise form of home rule agreed to by De Valera and the Irish parliament. The Canadian delegates to the convention voted solidly for the resolution.

ULSTER HOLDS KEY TO PEACE IN IRELAND

London.—Peace or continued war in Ireland depended Friday on Ulster. The six northern counties still determined not to yield to "President" De Valera's demand that he be permitted to represent all Ireland at the peace conference, stood in the way of Sinn Féin's acceptance of the British proposals. The Ulster "hitch" developed when peace seemed virtually assured.

De Valera's call for a meeting of the Sinn Féin parliament in Dublin on August 15 aroused the keenest speculation here.

The general belief was that the "president" and his cabinet saw a way to continue peace negotiations with the British premier, Lloyd George, and desired the parliament's approval.

MAIL TRAIN ROBBED OF $15,000 BY TWO BANDITS

Terre Haute, Ind.—Two bandits flagged Baltimore and Ohio train No. 56 two miles south of Altamont, Ill., early Friday and robbed the mail car of two registered mail pouches and $15,000 in currency according to word reaching here today.

Voliva's Enemies Use Fire In Reprisals In Zion City's "Holy War"

Zion City, Ill.—Peaceful Zion had its baptism of fire Friday.

Reprisals in the Zion City holy war started when the torch was applied to six signs of warning erected by Voliva Glenn Voliva, monarch of the church and city of Zion.

The signs, the most conspicuous sootery in the holy city, were burned to the ground. The flames started in six isolated spots simultaneously at 4 o'clock.

The huge bell in the tabernacle which usually calls the adherents of Voliva to church called them to fight the flames this morning. It was only after two hours of battling that buildings were saved.

Underneath the surface of tranquility, war has been brewing between Voliva and his enemies since the beginning of the year.

Another read "Anyone who starts a church in our city is a bum, with less honor than a highway man. Take your ecclesiastical goat house somewhere else."

Priest Held By Abductors For Huge Ransom

By United Press Leased Wire
San Francisco, Calif.—A ransom of $50,000 was asked Friday for the return of Rev. Father Patrick E. Healy, of Colima, in a letter to Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, according to the police.

Father Healy, who had only been in charge of the Colima parish for two weeks, disappeared Tuesday after he had supposedly gone to hear a death bed confession.

Authorities believe Rev. Healy is being held in the country somewhere between Colima and Saldaña beach.

The letter stated that the exact conditions on which the priest would be released would be made known by a telephone call, but no call was received.

It is believed the kidnapers hoped to obtain a large ransom from the Knights of Columbus, who have been in convention here.

WILSON'S POLICY TOWARD HAITIANS SHARPLY ATTACKED

Haitian Officer Declares American Intervention Violated Treaties.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The policy of former president Wilson towards Haiti, in sending marines there was attacked Friday before a senate committee which began an investigation of Haiti and San Domingo.

Steno Vincent former Haitian minister of justice and president of the Haitian government when it was dissolved by American forces, read to the committee a statement in which he alleged that the Wilson administration's claim that intervention in Haiti was to protect lives of American and foreigners was unfounded.

Not an American nor a foreigner of any other nationality had been killed in the revolutionary outbreaks, no burnings or other property destruction had occurred, Vincent testified.

American intervention violated not only treaties but Wilson's doctrine of equality for all American republics, he said.

Captain Ernest Angel, representing the Haiti-San Domingo Independence society, demanded withdrawal of American forces.

Angel further declared that the state department's "action in forcing acceptance of the treaty" on the Haitians was "unworthy of any righteous nation."

$50,000 PAYROLL LOST TO BANDITS

By United Press Leased Wire
Hackensack, N. J.—Six bandits Friday held up several guards and the paymaster of the Barrett Manufacturing company and escaped with a sum estimated between $40,000 and $50,000 in currency.

The robbery occurred near the company's plant at Shady Side, near the Hudson river.

The bandits, concealed in bushes along the paymaster's car by towed stones into the road. With drawn revolvers they jumped into the road, covering the guards, who were not given time to lift their guns.

The paymaster's money bag was seized. One bandit cut the wiring in the car which was rolled into the bushes. The guards were disarmed and the bandits disappeared in the bushes where one of their number had remained in an automobile with its motor running.

SHOOT MAN BECAUSE HE DENIES ROBBERY BLAME

West Palm Beach, Florida.—"I shot Milmore—I did it after attempting to make him sign a statement that he had committed the robbery. He wouldn't sign, and in desperation I shot him."

This is the confession made by Miss Lena Clarke, pretty postmistress and poet, to Chief of Police Vestal at Orlando according to word received here Friday.

Miss Clarke already had confessed to defalcation and theft in connection with the postoffice robberies here recently.

A week ago $32,000 disappeared from a registered package, being sent from the First National bank here to the Federal Reserve bank in Atlanta.

W. M. Milmore, Orlando restaurant man was found dead in a hotel room in that place shortly afterward. Police arrested Lena.

ARREST FIVE MEN AS MAIL ROBBER SUSPECTS

Cleveland, O.—Five men, suspected of being members of the gang of bandits who last Friday rifled the mail car of the crack Manhattan limited train of the Pennsylvania railroad near Casasandra, Pa., were taken into custody here today following a raid on a house on Alpine-ave.

The men were taken so completely by surprise that they offered no resistance. They will be held pending a rival of mail clerks who were held up on the train.

SOVIETS MUST BE GOOD TO GET AMERICAN AID

Hoover Demands Guarantee of Protection From Bolshevik Government.

REFUGEES OVERRUN LATVIA
Great Horde of Hungry Russians Threaten to Engulf Northern State.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Herbert Hoover, head of the American relief administration, will insist on negotiations with the Russian soviet government itself before extending American food and other relief to the famine stricken country, it was learned Friday.

Hoover takes this position because he believes the soviet government is the only agency which can guarantee safety and freedom for American relief workers in Russia.

This foreshadows the first real hitch in the extension of relief to Russia as officials here fear that representatives of relief committees in Russia will come out to Riga to negotiate with Walter Lyman Brown European director of the American relief administration. Dispatches Friday from Riga also stated that Russia intended to negotiate with Brown through a relief committee.

Officials here fear that if an agreement is reached only with a relief committee of Russia, the bolshevik government, remaining in the background will recognize and carry out such an agreement only as it sees fit.

Race With Refugees

Riga — Riga, Friday anxiously watched the race between Russian refugees and American relief workers.

Delay in the relief work, it was feared here, will cause Riga and all Latvia to be smothered under the tidal wave of humanity now pouring across Russia from the famine districts.

Every hour brought new reports of the depredations and horrors of the famine fight. The people here were convinced that unless American relief arrives quickly they will be buried under an avalanche of humanity from Russia.

Visions of their homes stripped of valuables, their food stocks consumed, and themselves left without food or clothing filled the minds of everyone here.

The arrival here of Maxim Gorky and Leon Kamenev, noted American relief workers, early next week brought some hope to natives. They declared that if the Americans are able to bring in food before the refugees come tumbling into Latvia, the situation may right itself.

FIND MISSING BANKER'S RUM STORED IN VAULTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Prohibition agents Friday raided private vaults in the Michigan Avenue Trust company and seized $10,000 worth of liquor, said to have been the property of Warren C. Spurgin, fugitive president of the bank.

Federal agents declared Spurgin was the only person who had access to the vault in which the liquor was stored.

Spurgin, federal authorities declared, was connected with a bootlegging ring and used the vaults in the bank for storage purposes.

The trail of Spurgin has been lost in Mexico, detectives said here Friday.

Operatives, who traced the alleged embezzler of nearly a million dollars to the vicinity of Chihuahua, Mexico, said all the traces have been lost.

$300 WORTH OF DOPE IS STOLEN AT FOND DU LAC

By United Press Leased Wire
Fond du Lac, Wis.—Police are looking for a dope fiend, as the man who last night stole $300 worth of morphine and opium from the store room of the Huber Bros drug store.

Small change left in the cash register was also taken, but nothing else disturbed. Entrance was made by cutting the glass from a rear window.

Community Building Is C. Of C. Objective

Chamber of Commerce Working to Obtain City-County Structure.

NEED MORE ROOM FOR FAIRS
City and County Officials Will Be Asked to Assist in Movement.

The best efforts of the chamber of commerce for the remaining months of 1921 will be concentrated on a county community building for Appleton following a vote of the board of directors at the bi-weekly meeting in the Sherman house Thursday evening, when the matter of a new major objective was up for consideration.

Prosecution of a vigorous campaign for such a structure will commence with the appointment of a special committee by President Lother G. Graef.

City planning was adopted early in the year as the 1921 objective of the chamber but this was crystallized into a municipal function before six months had expired. A new community task therefore was sought, and the county building chosen. Much preliminary effort already had been expended by the real trades and rural affairs committees, and the project was in shape for the chamber itself to take up. Members of the two committees who have given the matter study probably will be on the building committee to be appointed.

Need More Room
Outagamie co. has outgrown its stock fair grounds on west College-ave., the merchants felt and need a bigger place to congregate at their sales. Recent cattle sales here demonstrated the need of a sales pavilion. Need also is felt for a room for rural shoppers including comfort facilities, information bureau place to check parcels, small meeting rooms and other community advantages. The chamber believes that any building erected here should embody all these features in its construction and functions.

Officials to Help
City and county officials will be asked to enter into the conferences and their suggestions and advice will be sought. Appleton officials already have manifested their interest in the project and assure their cooperation.

Miss Mabel Schuler, assistant secretary of the chamber spoke at the meeting, concerning the training school for commercial secretaries at Evanston, Ill. which she attended for two weeks. She gave in outline of the work of the school and told of the most advanced ideas of what a chamber of commerce should do. She expressed the belief that Appleton was years ahead of many other commercial organizations and was working along modern lines. The program of work and budget system were mentioned as illustrations of efficient work here.

Seven Members Of Family Dead From Eating Poison

Winipeg, Man.—Seven persons are dead at Stuartburn, near Brandon City, as a result of eating poisonous mushrooms, in the belief that they were mushrooms.

The deaths wiped out an entire family consisting of Fred Huska, his wife and six children with the exception of a six months old baby.

The tragedy was practically complete before neighbors knew that sickness had touched the family and when help arrived it was too late to save the father, who was the last to succumb.

The story, as it could be gathered from almost incoherent words of the sick man was the mushrooms, or what they took to be edible fungi, were gathered by the children on Sunday, cooked and eaten. The first death occurred on Monday. Another child died Tuesday, and by this time the entire family were suffering from the poisoning and unable to help themselves. Wednesday witnessed the death of the mother and another child, while Thursday claimed two more victims.

EXHUME MORE BODIES TO LEARN CAUSE OF DEATH

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—More bodies are to be exhumed in an attempt to solve the Schiller park murder mystery, Coroner Hoffman said Friday.

This follows the finding of arsenic in the body of John Demmer, who was buried eight years ago in Colby, Wis. Previous to the disclosure, arsenic was found in the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kolbe.

Mrs. Demmer, who with her husband lived with the Kolbes and later became Kolbe's housekeeper following the death of their respective mates, is being held by authorities for questioning.

Undertakers state they did not use arsenic in embalming the three bodies. Upon the plea of Elmer Kolbe, son in law of Mrs. Demmer, the authorities have agreed to exhumate the bodies of two other members of the family who were buried by the same undertaker to determine if arsenic really was used in embalming.

CHICAGO CLAIMS POLITEST "COP"

Officer Pat Sheehy Believes Being Polite Is Best Way to Get Along.

Chicago—Chicago claims the most courteous cop in the country in Pat Sheehy, traffic officer No. 4593. If there's a bluecoat anywhere who can top "Chesterfield" Sheehy, Chief Fitzmorris would like to hear about him.

The chief sent investigators out to find the most gentlemanly policeman on his force of 4500 men. They un-animously gave Sheehy the prize and the title as the nation's best, because he told them when questioned:

"That's such and such a corner they could buy cheap straw hats."

"That eggs could be purchased at such a market."

"That the fare to New York over such a road was so much."

A policeman's job always appealed to Sheehy, he says as a place in which he could give service to others. When he was given a uniform and badge, he bought an encyclopedia. He studies it nights. So far he has digested everything up to "H."

Sheehy carries an indicator in his pocket. Each time someone asks him a question, he moves up the dial. It now registers more than 10,000.

Travelers who accost him can't figure out whether they're talking to a college professor or a tourists' guide. He answers any and all questions promptly and politely.

"Once I took a chance," says Sheehy, "and advised a woman to buy wheat on margin when she stopped me on the street and asked me Sheehy, and wanted me to share her winnings."

"But politeness, for me, is its own reward."

The Misses Clara and Elsie Bernhardt of Green Bay, were visitors in Appleton Thursday.

David Beryas has arrived from a two weeks' visit at Chicago.

Hope to Break Up Scoreless Inning Run of Crack Oshkosh Pitcher.

Menasha—The Oshkosh baseball team comes to Menasha next Sunday for what should prove to be one of the best games of the season. The Menasha team is now a top notch aggregation and should be able to hold its own with any team in the league. Heath who has been doing wonderful pitching for Menasha will again be on the mound with Delmore receiving. Jones is still laid up with his injuries and Klawitter will again hold first base. Hoffmann is elected to play second and the rest of the team will be as always. Schultz, shortstop, Zelinski, third and Rens, Weisgerber and Scholick in the outfield. The game promises to be a pitcher's battle and Menasha fans will be interested to see if Stevenson can stop the new Menasha sluggers. Stevenson has a record of not having been scored on in the last 23 innings having shut out Kimberly and New London in the last two games. Oshkosh has two new players, Flynn at third and Hock in the outfield. Both are college players who have played conference ball. The Oshkosh lineup next Sunday will also include Brant their hard-hitting outfielder who was offered a contract with a St. Louis club.

Next Sunday afternoon at the Neenah ball park the Lakeviews are to meet the Oshkosh newspapermen, the Northwesterners. The Neenah team showed real calibre in the game last Sunday when they defeated the New London team.

The "Fats" and the "Loans", Menasha's two promising baseball teams, will not meet on Saturday of this week. Both teams have won a game and a third game is to be played but it was decided to have the game a week from Saturday. Aug. 13 to give both teams a rest and also a longer period to spend in training for the last and crucial game of the series.

The Algoma camp boys and several assistants of the Algoma camp for boys, on Lake Butte Des Morts enjoyed a noonday luncheon at the grill room of Hotel Menasha on Thursday noon. The youngsters are enjoying a boat trip from Oshkosh to Green Bay.

Wednesday morning at 5:45 at the St. Joseph church in Appleton Miss Anna Schedsyck of Menasha became the bride of Frank Kirk of Appleton. Mrs. John Sielinski was the bridesmaid and John Sielinski attended the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marshall of Shawano, spent Thursday in this city. Charles Buhl left Friday morning for a two days' business trip in Chicago. He will continue to Monterey, Ind. for a week's visit with relatives. H. T. Simpson of Milwaukee, was in Appleton on business Thursday.

BANDIT MAKES MERCHANT HAND OVER DAY'S RECEIPTS

By United Press Leased Wire Milwaukee, Wis.—A. L. Cook, grocer, Wauwatosa, was awakened early Friday morning by a bandit and forced, at the point of a revolver, to go to a hiding place, secure the cash receipts of Thursday's sales and hand them over. Cook turned over $40, he told the police. Later the same bandit held up George Kingstad, driver for the Waukesha Milk company. Only a small amount of change was secured. The robber searched the Cook store and failing to find the cash, entered the bedroom where the aged grocer was sleeping, shook him, and ordered him to get up and hand over the money or die.

RIVER LOWEST IN 10 YEARS; MILLS HAVE SCANT POWER

Navigation Hampered as Water Recedes to Danger Point. Need Rain.

Manufacturing plants of the Fox River valley are depending mostly on steam for power these days because the river level is the lowest in ten years. The government has curtailed the water supply so that less than one-half the usual supply was available last week. Water power may be restricted entirely if the water goes much lower, it is said.

Papermills are depending largely on coal to generate steam power to keep the mills operating. This is as rather expensive, but all mills are curtailed an equal amount with the penalty of losing their water power entirely if they do not comply with the government's orders.

Navigation is affected seriously by the scant water supply. Records taken by government officials show the height of the water to be 50.72 points which is 0.6 feet below the crest of the McNasha dam, measuring 50.80 points. Ten years ago the gauge recorded 50.57, the lowest on record.

Capt. Arden LeFevre of the Steamer Paul L. says he finds difficulty in navigating the upper Wolf river. The Bay Boom cutoff connecting the old river channel with the southern shore line on Lake Poygan is too low for the steamer's use and the old river route therefore must be used. The route is eight miles to the trip. A landing at the new Winnebago dock is almost impossible. The captain believes lighter cargoes will have to be carried unless there are enough rains soon to overcome the shallowness of the river.

Down Fox river near Kaukauna and again at DePere the low water is making navigation for large boats dangerous. Considerable care must be exercised by navigators because of the protruding rocks. Many of these were removed last year by the government.

This condition has occurred a number of times. One instance was in 1895 when the inflow to the lake barely equaled the amount of evaporation which is at the surprising rate of 4,000 cubic feet a minute in hot weather. Gauges at that time were down to 42.

Dams and sluice gates in the valley are being watched and regulated with extreme care in an attempt to help the situation. Heavy rains are said to be the only solution.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry DePauwer and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scheil attended the home coming celebration at Green Bay Thursday evening.

ADMIRERS OF BABE RUTH

The orphans of St. Paul's Asylum, Pittsburg, are shown with Babe Ruth, who visited them recently. He "couldn't even smell" the curves of an orphan pitcher, but he slammed the old apple all over the lot when a grown up pitcher faced him. That sure tickled the youngsters. Babe was raised in a boys' school.

Seeking the husband who left her 24 years ago, Mrs. Annie Poquette of Marinette, called at the police station Friday morning and asked the assistance of the authorities in locating the man. She gave her address as 2412 Bank st., Marinette and left on a morning train with assurance that the officers would do all they could for her.

Mrs. Poquette said her husband's name was David Poquette. She believed him to be in Appleton perhaps living under an assumed name. She could not tell just where he might be found, however.

"My husband left me 24 years ago," said Mrs. Poquette, "and I have had to earn my living since by hard work. I have taken in washings for my support. I hope I can find him because I want him to come back and live with me."

Mrs. Poquette is an elderly woman. She says she was married twice. Her first husband was Ferdinand Tuttle, who has several children living in this locality but they go under another name. Her brother, Fred Burmann lives at 545 Pierce-ave., Appleton. She visited with him for one or two days. She gave the impression that she had several children who live in Detroit and also intends to have them help her find her husband.

WILL RIDE RAPIDS OF CRYSTAL RIVER AS CAMP FEATURE

Harmless Thrills Will Be Provided Boy Scouts at Camp Onaway.

"Are we to take the Crystal river trip this year?"

Almost every boy scout who is acquainted with Camp Onaway is springing this question on Howard P. Buck, scout executive. He has announced that the Crystal river trip definitely has been adopted as a feature of the camp program by the camping committee. Funds required for the venture will be taken from the camp canteen profits.

This trip is sufficient inducement for most of the boys to enroll for this year's camp from Aug. 15 to 30. The total number is climbing toward the limit of 60 and indications are that the quota will be more than reached by Saturday, the last day on which to enroll. Troops are holding meetings and working up camp delegations.

Enough fun and excitement accompanies the Crystal river trip to keep the boys talking for week after ward. It is a journey of about eight miles in flat bottomed boats. The river is filled with rapids, falls, sharp turns and hazards that keep a boy on edge all the time he is aboard. Few escape without a wetting.

The river is ideal for the purpose because it furnishes all the red blooded thrills without the least element of danger. The water is no deeper or at any point than a wading pool, so no matter how many times the boats tip over or dip water or no matter how many times a boy is thrown out, he strikes bottom quickly, stands up and finds the only damage is a wetting. No camp is considered complete without holding this ride at least once.

Men with entertaining ability from Appleton and other cities are to be invited to the camp evenings to give talks, readings or stunts, or to tell fireside stories. Some surprise features also are to be held occasionally to liven up the activities.

Visitors are to be welcome at camp any time but will be required to make reservations in advance if they desire meals. One day will be set aside for a special council and parent day.

Members of Appleton Boy Scout council are backing the camp and are urging a large attendance. Several men intend to lay business aside and spend at least part of the camp period with the scouts. The success of the camp depends largely on the presence of a large number of leaders. Mr. Buck says.

COUNCIL'S COURTESY TO THE PLANNING COMMISSION

In deferring action on the bridge project until the planning commission could bring in a recommendation, the city council Wednesday night extended a courtesy to the commission which those who know the purpose and object of a planning commission can readily appreciate.

The commission was organized and a city planner engaged for the very purpose of aiding the council in matters of this kind. Prof. Smith has been engaged in taking a traffic census for several days with the idea of placing before the planning commission such facts and figures as will enable it to more intelligently deal with the bridge matter.

To be sure, the council is not compelled to accept the commission's findings and after all it is the council which will finally determine the action to be taken on the bridge question but it was no doubt a wise and consistent move to defer all action until the city planning commission has been heard from. In defense of the councilmen who were anxious that the council get busy immediately with the preliminary work with the highway department on the viaduct problem, it might be said that they in no way attempted to offend the planning commission, but felt that action along both lines could be conducted simultaneously.

ADVERTISING IS NOT A BUSINESS COST

A fallacy which is often voiced is that generous and progressive advertisers must charge higher prices for the merchandise which they sell, in order to pay for publicity, than inanimate and visionless merchants. The erroneous idea on which casual misconception is based is that the cost of advertising is enormous. The principal and valuable characteristic of advertising is that it is productive. Advertising is not a charge against commerce and a heavy burden on trade, but is a facility which creates, stimulates and increases business. The actual effect of advertising, though publicity may seem to be expensive, is to lower prices, and establishments whose outlay for advertising is the largest offer their customers the most attractive bargains as to values and the best economies in prices.

The lowest levels of prices are determined by the rapidity and magnitude of the turnovers of goods. The most ambitious and ablest managed concerns endeavor to earn their profits from a large volume of business, and the principle underlying a large gross revenue from sales is a small margin of profit. The small profit translates to a vast amount through the great volume of business which is done. It would be practically impossible for a mercantile establishment to develop a spreading tide of business without liberal and judicious advertising. The public must be told what goods are to be sold and what prices will be asked. Buyers do not care to take the trouble and bear the expense of roaming from store to store, perhaps for days, to find satisfactory goods, values and prices. Advertising notifies the public truthfully and fully as to merchandise and prices, and customers flock in thousands to the stores which employ publicity.

Advertising is the modern means of serving the interests of both merchants and buyers. As it creates, stimulates and increases business to such an extent as to enable, and even assure, rapidity of sales and volume of trade, based on a small margin of profit, it is the active factor which causes the lowest possible price. Merchants who do not advertise are the ones who must charge high prices for their goods. The public discovers their stores by chance or at inconvenience, and, as their trade is uncertain and its current is small, they must realize big margins of profit. The cost of advertising is lost completely in the volume of the trade which it produces. It is not a cost, but an economy. Advertising reduces prices to the minimum level.

THE BRAIN

In an insane asylum at Armentieres, France, is a blind young man with one of the world's most amazing brains. Scientists have watched and written about his case for years. He is a genius at figures—one of the greatest lightning calculators on record, though his brain faculties are subnormal, inferior. All his mathematical calculations are performed in his head. He never figures with pencil. Investigators recently asked him to give the cube root of 465,484,375. He thought for 13 seconds—and gave the correct answer. This question was put to him: "How many grains of corn would be in 64 boxes if the first box had one grain, the second two grains, the third four, the fourth eight, the eighth 16, and so on in succession?" In 45 seconds the wizard announced the sum total—18,446,734,073,709,551,615.

Wherever we find one faculty of the brain abnormally developed, other faculties usually suffer. It is like a man with his left arm cut off and the strength of both arms concentrated in his right. Nature gives us certain powers and so balances them that their total averages about the same.

But there is one brain faculty—memory—that can be developed to almost any extent without impairing the others. Amazing memory feats have been performed by men with brilliant, well-balanced brains. Robert Robinson, California evangelist, a few years ago created a scientific sensation by proving that he had memorized half of the Bible, which has 773,693 words. It is said that Caesar knew tens of thousands of his soldiers by their full names. Professor Asa Gray could name 25,000 different plants. Many Brahmins can repeat word for word, the 10,000 verses of the Rig-Veda.

While man's intelligence increases slowly, the day may come when many will have the same mathematical brilliance as the young Frenchman, with all other faculties equally developed. Mentally, man has not proceeded far in the period of history recorded. Eventually his brain compared with ours, may be stupendous in its powers.

OPEN DOOR AT THE CONFERENCE

The seventh anniversary of the World war's beginning found, perhaps, the most practical peace move of history under way in the form of President Harding's plan for a disarmament congress.

It also found German peace advocates parading in Berlin—but only with the protection of thousands of police who held back the "junkers" still rampant in the former land of kaiserism. It found Hungary advocating a future war of revenge in its public press. It found the Greek armies engaged in a war of aggrandizement, driving the Turks back through Asia Minor and reporting losses to date of more than 60,000 men, not to count the Turkish casualties. It found two governments fighting for control of China. It found France preventing the Germans and Poles from leaping at each other's throats in upper Silesia; and a dozen other interesting little problems for which the Versailles treaty furnished no practical method of enforcing a settlement.

Not only the Far east but guarantees of safety to France and of justice to many other lands must come up of necessity in the approaching conference. Unless the meeting settles many other important disputes as a preliminary to the cessation of navy building and the setting of a disarmament date, and unless it makes provision for a careful policing of the world's still active political volcano-spots, it will only be making it easier for injustice to prevail. Japan or no Japan, there must be no closed doors to discussion when this very promising conference gets under way.

CARUSO

"Caruso's voice is stilled by death." That could have been said truthfully—if the singer had died 25 years ago. But though the marvelous tenor has been touched by Death's hand, his voice will live through the centuries. And, too, he will walk with generations after generations to come. For Caruso's voice is preserved for us through the phonograph; his form is preserved for us in motion pictures. For which art must thank science.

CAKES TWO NAMES.

A journey-cake is the same as a Johnny-cake. A Johnny-cake is a flat cake made of Indian cornmeal mixed with milk or water, salted, and baked on a griddle or toasted. When baked upon a shingle and placed before the coals, it was termed journey-cake, so called because it could be so speedily prepared. This name has been corrupted in modern times to Johnny-cake.—Literary Digest.

ON GETTING A GOAT.

Dear Dr. Brady:
1. Is goat's milk generally laxative?
2. Would the use of one pint of goat's milk daily by a consumptive be apt to cause a slight temperature, where there was usually no fever?
Nervous prostration, followed by an operation for appendicitis, left me, I lasted four years, in spite of the efforts of digestive specialists in New York, Boston and other places. Last November, in California, I discovered The Goat. Since then, by the use of one quart of goat's milk per day, I have kept the bowels acting naturally, after a strike of four years. Last summer pulmonary tuberculosis was discovered. By the use of goat's milk I have increased my weight from 104 to 141 pounds.

During a brief absence from The Goat, while motoring through the Mojave desert, I lost weight, which proves pretty fairly that the gain was due to The Goat.

Do you wonder that I want to canonize The Goat? Am I justified in recommending goat's milk to friends who have tuberculosis or chronic constipation, or is it only by chance that The Goat did such wonders for me? (Mrs. C. F.)

Many morals may be drawn from the text of today's discourse. Let us consider them in order. First, it is human nature to ascribe any change for the worse or better to the last remedy or treatment employed, although the remedy or treatment blamed or extolled may have nothing to do with the changed condition.

Goat's milk is richer in fat than any other kind of milk, and it is the fat in milk that produces any laxative effect, but goat's milk is so carefully to be considered a laxative food for one with chronic constipation. Most sufferers would probably note no different effect from goat's milk than they do from cow's milk. Cow's milk is neither laxative nor binding.

Second, many other factors are more reasonably responsible for the gain in weight than the use of goat's milk. The discovery of the lung tuberculosis probably led to some sort of treatment by rest, etc., which would favor gain in weight. It is not reasonable to imagine that any adult can gain 37 pounds in six months by merely taking a point or a quart of even goat's milk daily, notwithstanding the fact that goat's milk is probably the most wholesome and nutritious milk one can drink. The goat is more nearly immune to tuberculosis than any other domestic animal; some physicians have suggested that goat's milk may convey to the tuberculous patient something that tends to increase resistance to tubercle toxin, but this is conjecture merely.

It may be that the open air life made possible or rather more attractive to the patient—assuming she had the usual popular catching cold obsession—by the move to California from New York—contributed something toward the gain in weight.

Thirdly, it is human nature with a vengeance to "tell the world" to use the remedy or treatment I imagine has helped, may help, or is helping me. Our correspondent asks whether she is justified in recommending goat's milk to friends who have tuberculosis. She is not. Haven't her friends physicians to consult? It is cruelty to take that sort of vengeance. If friends ask her opinion, advice or experience with goat's milk she should tell them what they wish to know, but one swallow does not make a summer and just because one goat has made a friend of this fair lady is no reason why all her invalid friends should get a goat.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Rusty Nodules.

You maintain that no harm comes from a wound made by a rusty nail, in so far as the rust is concerned, but that any poisonous effect is to be ascribed to germs that happen to be on the nail, be it rusty or new. I suppose professors and doctors can see these germs in the air which are invisible to ordinary mortal eyes. (Baltimore)

Answer—You nearly understand. I do not insist that the germs responsible for blood poisoning after a wound by a nail, bright or rusty, are necessarily present on the nail; they may be present in the dirt or on the skin about the wounded surface, and the nail may simply push them into the wound. The germs are just as visible to ordinary eyes as to the eyes of professors or doctors—through a microscope. There are none so blind in this matter as those who never have had the opportunity of looking through a microscope at disease germs.

Going to Have a Party.

I have several brown spots on my face which I contemplate having removed, would thank you to print the names of half a dozen specialists who do such work. (Mrs. W. A. T.)

Answer—I will be glad to suggest a competent skin specialist by mail. I cannot print the names of physicians here.

More Adhesions.

I had an operation for appendicitis five years ago and every year I have peritonitis. My physician claims I have adhesions which cause constant pain in my left side. Will you please explain adhesions and tell me whether there is any cure besides another operation. (Miss M. A. M.)

Answer—Infection, causing inflammation, in the chest cavity, in the abdominal cavity, in the pelvic cavity, may cause a sticking together of the opposing surfaces of organs or structures which are normally freely movable, by bands or cords of fibrous tissue which forms from the exudate or matter extruded by the inflamed surfaces. If you have peritonitis every year there must be a source of infection which should be eradicated. As a rule adhesions cause no trouble and it is more likely that such pain as you describe is due to inflammation than to adhesions. Adhesions are not nearly so bad as they are painted.

Roads Of Remembrance

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Instead of covering the country with the old fashioned idea of monuments to the heroic American dead of the World War, a strong movement is afoot and gaining strength for planting memorial trees to honor the memory of the slain.

The suggestion is linked up with the good roads campaign in a way, trees being planted in hundreds of places along the finest highways to make them constant reminders of the sacrifices made.

The American Legion is taking a leading part in cooperating with the American Forestry Association in this work. Coupled with the beautiful thought of making the trees living monuments to the men who lost their lives in France and on the high seas is the aid the movement will give to checking the deforestation of the United States. All memorial trees and groves are being registered on an honor roll kept in Washington by the Forestry Association.

Charlotte, Michigan, has furnished an example which those pushing the plan hope other towns and cities will follow. An unsightly piece of ground in the town was converted into a garden spot through the work of the school children and citizens of the town, with the American Legion playing a prominent part. Seven thousand year-old white pines were planted, 1,000 hardwood trees, mostly maple and elm, 100 black walnut, 100 butternut, and a grove of red oaks were placed. A memorial tablet stands in the center of the park noting that the grove is a memorial to the Eaton County men who went across and did not come back.

One of the last official acts of Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr., late commander of the American Legion, before his tragic death in an automobile accident, was to plant trees at the intersection of the National and Dixie Highways in memory of his fallen comrades in arms. These trees are planted in the town of Vandalia, Ohio. The American Legion now is making plans to continue the memorial trees from this point along both highways. These rows of trees lining the two great roads will, it is expected, be dedicated to Colonel Galbraith himself.

Near Canton and not far from Vandalia, tree planting soon is to be resumed by an organization of Stark County women which bids fair to be the leading county unit in this work. These women, headed by Mrs. William D. Caldwell, have planted hundreds of trees along the Lincoln Highway, and are completing the planting of a memorial avenue called "President's Row" that runs from the highway 400 yards to the tomb of the martyred President McKinley.

In starting the planting of "President's Row" the trowel used by Mrs. Harding, wife of the President was utilized for the first time outside of Washington. The trowel is now in great demand at tree-planting ceremonies, and Mrs. Harding has publicly expressed the wish that the little garden implement will travel far in this work.

Camping Grounds Provided

The "tin can tourists," now becoming familiar everywhere are proving another great agency in fostering tree-planting. Municipalities have come to realize that attractive places must be provided for them to stay. Hundreds of towns have laid out parks and groves for the reception of these motor tourists. The American Forestry Association report, rivalry in this has sprung up between neighbors.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How did the term "midshipman" as applied to men at the Naval Academy originate? G. R. O.

A. The title originated in the British Navy more than 200 years ago when the young gentlemen "who were under instruction on these vessels for the purpose of becoming officers, were given quarters amidstships abreast the mainmast on the lower deck.

Q. How many enlisted men have applied for discharge under the present reduction of the army? C. E. B.

A. About 25 per cent of the enlisted men have applied for discharge, this amounting to approximately 55,000.

Q. What is a manitou? C. N.

A. This is an Algonquin word used to designate a particular religious concept of the Algonquin-speaking Indian tribes around the Great Lakes. They believe in a cosmic mysterious property which pervades everything. They personify this element in manlike gods, spoken of as manitous.

Q. Who was known as the Man Miller? L. G. U.

A. This was a nickname given to the French monarch Henry III on account of his effeminacy and fondness for dress.

Q. What should minks be fed? S. Y.

A. Minks thrive on the same diet as cats. Although naturally carnivorous, they readily learn to like an inexpensive mush made of wheat bread, corn bread, cooked oatmeal, boiled rice, or mashed potatoes, mixed with a small portion of chopped or ground meat, and seasoned with sweet milk or meat broth. Do not offer the combination more than twice in a week. Fresh meat is always in season.

boring municipalities, with healthful and beneficial results.

Arbor days in the fall and Armistice Day in November provide a sequence of appropriate dates for tree planting, and plans are being pushed for starting thousands of trees growing on these occasions.

In the yard of one of the public schools in Washington—the Force school—there is now growing a Lombardy poplar planted in memory of Quentin Roosevelt. Quentin attended the Force school when his illustrious father was President, and is the only one of the former pupils of the school to lose his life in the World War. On the succeeding anniversaries of Armistice Day, the sons and daughters of Washington's most distinguished residents have joined in exercises in honor of the son the late ex-President.

On the drill field of the University of Illinois 173 trees have been planted to honor the memory of 173 former students who "went west" before the war ended. The University is not ending its efforts there, though, and is taking an active part in the movement for making the nation's highways roads of remembrance by planting trees along the borders.

Variety Important

American Forestry Association officials urge that the proper kinds of trees be planted. Varieties like the elm and the sycamore should be planted where the ground is low and rather moist, while such trees as oak and pine should be planted where the site is dry and sandy. The situation of the trees, the organization urges, should be carefully selected with reference to other features of the site.

The Chamber of Commerce of Santa Rosa has planted four and a half miles of shade trees along a section of the state highway, in honor of the gold star men, the women's clubs assisting the commercial organization with the plan. The trees are on each side of the highway, twenty feet from the center. Luther Burbank was consulted as to the proper shade trees to plant there, and his suggestions followed. The civic organizations of the towns along this sixteen mile section of the state highway have lined the entire roadway with ornamental shade trees, with the assistance of women's organizations of various characters. The American Legion also the school children aided too. At the completion of the planting, the California Highway Commission will take charge, and be responsible for the care of the trees.

In planting trees the first question that comes up is the kind of tree to select. The answer to this depends upon a few easily ascertained factors. One of the most important is the character of the soil in which the trees are to be placed. A few trees, notable among them the American elm, are adaptable to a wide range of soils. Some other trees, such as the tulip tree, require a special condition of soil in order to thrive. Deep, rich soil is essential to the tulip and some others.

The question of climate of course must be considered. No one is going to plant palm trees in New England an expect them to thrive or even to live, but there are distinctions much finer than these. The live oak grows best in the South, for instance, while the sugar maple thrives best in the more rigorous New England and Northwestern climates.

The American Forestry Association has worked out answers to every question that can be asked about the proper trees to plant in any section or community, and this information is at the disposal of individuals or organizations undertaking a tree planting program. But officials of the forestry organization say that it is safe to follow the course of planting trees which already are thriving in the neighborhood in which the trees are to be planted.

der. Adults require about 4 ounces of clean meat, or the equivalent, daily.

Q. Was there more than one king named Midas? C. E. H.

A. Midas was a common name of the more ancient Phrygian kings, the Midas of the Golden Touch legend being the most famous.

Q. How many kings have there been in the world? D. O. D.

A. There are no actual statistics on this, but Armstrong's Synopsis of Facts and Figures, 1891, says that there have been known to be 2,250 kings and emperors ruling over 75 different peoples. Of these 300 were deposed, 64 were forced to abdicate, 28 committed suicide, 23 became insane, 100 were killed in battle, 123 were captured by the enemy, 2 were tortured to death, 151 were assassinated, and 108 were executed.

Q. Why did the Egyptians mummify their dead? G. S. S.

A. The Egyptians believed that after the soul departed from the body it was judged in the Hall of Double Truth, before Osiris, the judge of the dead. After it had undergone all its transformations it would return and again enter the body in the tomb. If by any chance the heart was destroyed, it would not be possible for the dead to enjoy life in the world to come.

Q. How many cedar shavings or mothballs should be put in a trunk to keep out moths? M. O. D.

A. About two quarts of cedar shavings or the equivalent of mothballs are required in an ordinary-sized trunk, or small closet, to keep out moths, etc.

THRILL CROWDS WITH AIR STUNTS

Jack Williams, the "human fly" and Aviator McYoun entertained a large number of people with spectacular stunts Thursday afternoon and evening. The aeroplane landed in the old circus grounds in the Sixth ward in the afternoon and then made exhibition flights, including somersaults, looping the loop, nose dives, side flops and other hair raising capers.

Williams then accompanied McYoun on his flights and thrilled the crowd by standing on his head above the top wing, hanging on the plane tail, standing unsupported between the wings and waving his hands, and other exciting performances.

The "fly" was scheduled to scale the wall of the Pettibone-Peabody store to the top in the evening, but changed his mind and climbed to the top of the Sherman house instead. He gained the roof by climbing from one set of window sills, window frames, water tables and other supports after another until he reached the top. He clambered over the edge and then stood on his head.

Relishes For Winter

Corn—canned, in relish and in salad—is a winter stand-by. Put every bit that you have in the garden and are not using fresh, away in cans.

Corn salad is something a bit different and it's tasty.

Corn Salad
Twelve ears corn, 1 head cabbage, 1 red pepper, 2 green peppers, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon ground mustard, 1 cup sugar, 2 Bermuda onions, 2 quarts vinegar.

Cut tops from kernels of corn and scrape out the rest. Chop cabbage. Remove seeds from peppers and chop. Chop onions. Mix vegetables, add remaining ingredients, put in preserving kettle and cook for twenty minutes. Fill sterilized jars with the mixture and seal while boiling hot.

Corn Relish
Three quarts corn, 1 head cabbage, 4 sweet peppers, 2 heads celery, 4 cups vinegar, 4 tablespoons mustard, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 3 tea spoons turmeric.

Measure corn after cutting from cob. It will take about 12 ears. Chop cabbage, peppers and celery. Mix all ingredients and put in preserving kettle. Boil twenty minutes and seal in sterilized jars.

Corn and Bean Relish (Cold Pack)
Twelve ears corn, 1 quart lima beans, 4 green peppers, 4 sweet red peppers, 2 cups minced onions, 2 cups diced tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 dessert spoon paprika.

Blanch and cold-dip corn. Cut from cob. Blanch and cold-dip lima beans. Parboil peppers, remove seeds and chop. Blanch and cold-dip onions. Mince. Pare tomatoes and cut in dice. Mix all ingredients with 4 cups boiling water. Fill jars level full with mixture, half seal tops and put in hot water. Boil for three hours after the water begins to boil. Remove from boiling water, seal and cool quickly. Reheat and serve as an extra vegetable some cold winter night.

A MANSION'S MENAGE

"Jane, you'll have to get up early tomorrow morning!" Daddy walked beside me as he followed Chrys and Spence out. "You'll have to come along with me and open up these stone doors for the secret service men. It will take a corps of army engineers to do the work without you!"

"I'll be ready, Daddy dear! You've given me an idea. Keep together, everybody. Stand in the passage! I want to show you something!"

I stood on the threshold of the door, facing them. I felt along the narrow board with the heel of my oxford. I pressed down, the extreme left end of the threshold. It worked—ss of old! Bricks cemented firmly together and fastened to a strong back, slid out of the side of the entrance as if by magic, fitted exactly and closed up the wall.

"By Jingo!" exclaimed Spence.

"You see how easily one might get shut in, so be careful," was my warning.

"I wouldn't be logical to have springs on the inside," Daddy commented.

"There are different tricks at the different doors. I don't know them all. Better nobody stay behind!" I said.

"Treacherous as quicksand," muttered Daddy. "Sure we'll need you in the morning, little girl!"

"All right," again I agreed.

"Funny place, this," Daddy was talking to Spence. "A private park in the middle of the business section. Certes has owned it for 15 years. Wouldn't sell. Always improving it! We sure made a bigger find than the Kaiser's diamonds, today. Improved! Huh!"

The men talked on in a low voice. I caught a word occasionally: "Uprising—revolution—scotched!"

We wandered deeper into the maze and approached the wine cellars. Daddy Lorimer stopped suddenly.

"What's this?" he growled.

Plainly it was a strong string. He had tangled his dragging foot in it. Spence stooped to release him. He pulled it one way, then the other. It held firm; it disappeared around the corners of the passage.

"Might be a clew to the maze—a guide by which somebody coming in, could find the way out swiftly!"

"Let's follow it!" I suggested.

"I'll bet it goes straight to the wine

The Mushroom's News

Right near to Ben Bunny's house stood the Magical Mushroom. He knew that Nancy and Nick had gone up to the sky to help Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, but he decided to wait awhile and see how things went before following them. He had seen Mr. Sun chase Jack Frost and he had watched the approach of the cloud upon which sat the twins and the Weatherman. He had seen the tricky breezes jump unknowingly into Mr. Sprinkle-Blow's big bag and then get hauled up to the sky where they belonged, and out of the way of the growing things. Folks on earth call them March winds, but fairy-folk know they have another name.

Then he noticed approvingly the warm rain that followed and Ben Bunny's delight at the same, but he was absolutely astonished when the big hailstone hit Ben on the nose, and still more astonished when more big hailstones, big as walnuts, came pelting down everywhere. "Hey there!" he called up to the cloud up on which the Weatherman and his helpers were sitting with their watering-pots tilted. "What are you doing?"

But no one heard him, so he decided to go himself and find out what had happened.

Right up through the pelting hailstones he went, using Magic of course (otherwise his nice round hat would have been smashed to pieces) and landed on the very cloud where Nancy and Nick and Sprinkle-Blow were peacefully sitting.

"For goodness sake! What's happening?" he cried. "You're both pouring down hailstones like hand bombs," and he pointed to the watering-pots which the children held in their hands.

"It's those Nuisance Fairies again!" declared Sprinkle-Blow with a shout, slinging his bag containing the breezes over his shoulder and closing his umbrella so he could ride it up to the star where he lived. "Come on, kiddoes, we'll investigate." To be continued

Little Interest in Game
Not much interest is shown in the coming ball game Sunday afternoon between New London and the home team. There will be no changes in the team's lineup, the men depending entirely upon what material they have.

Comparative scores mean nothing when it comes to another battle. The home team is in at least 75 per cent better condition than it was at the beginning of the season.

DAIRY JAUNT WAS AN EDUCATION TO GUERNSEY OWNERS

Waupaca and Portage Counties Give Warm Welcome to Visitors Thursday.

New ideas, new enthusiasm and new acquaintances were gained by Guernsey breeders and their families of Outagamie-co. who enjoyed the dairy excursion to Waupaca and Portage counties Thursday. Weather and roads were ideal. Twenty-one heavily loaded automobiles made up the party which travelled 52 miles.

All excursionists assembled at Harry Leppa's corner, Greenville, and drove to Waupaca. They stopped a few moments and then proceeded directly to three farms. The route followed on the way out was through Scandinavia, and the return east to New London by way of Iola, Symco, Manawa, Royalton and Northport. Yellow signs furnished by the First National bank and bearing the words, "Guernsey Boosters from Outagamie County," were carried on each machine.

O. L. Bestul, president of the Waupaca County Guernsey Breeders' association and president of the county farm bureau, James Hanson, county agent, and half a dozen leading breeders met the visitors at the Carl T. Knutson farm, which was the first stop. They relieved Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, as pathfinder for the remainder of the trip. Dinner was served on the Knutson lawn, after which Mr. Bestul delivered an address of welcome and said he hoped Waupaca-co. breeders could make a like excursion to Outagamie-co. soon.

About an hour was spent at the Knutson farm, where the exceptional herd owned by Mr. Knutson was examined. The cows were well grown from good stock and had admirable top lines. The herd is the son of Rex of Rich Neck and of a dam with an 800-pound fat record, making him one of the state's leaders. Five grade cows, all daughters of one sire were a remarkable example of uniform udder development and dairy efficiency. Mr. Nyhus, who formerly was county agent of Waupaca-co. explained the outstanding points of this and other herds.

Another splendid herd was seen at the L. S. Murat farm. Five daughters of the first cow owned by Mr. Murat were separated from the rest of the herd so the quality of this stock could be seen. The owner showed how his entire herd had been built around one heifer calf which he bought 14 years ago. Sixteen daughters of Pen-cord Autocrat impressed all with their uniformity and excellence of dairy quality. This sire was sold to Mr. Plozman, Elderon, for $2,000.

Ten Guernsey breeders of Portage-co. and R.-K. McDonald, Stevens Point, secretary of the Portage County Guernsey Breeders' association were at the L. E. Gordon farm to welcome the excursionists.

Eight cows were in individual pens for advanced registry tests. Five daughters of the senior herd since then were brought out for inspection. The best animal was a 2-year old heifer with an A. R. record of 600 pounds of fat.

W. G. Jamison of Appleton expressed the thanks of the local men for his help that Guernsey enthusiasm had been heightened and that dairy-ing had been advanced by the trip.

WOMAN SAYS UGLINESS SENT HER TO PRISON

Chicago.—Mrs. Dora Waterman says no jury will convict a pretty woman of murder.

She has just been sentenced to 17 years in the penitentiary for killing her husband.

"But I'm not pretty," she says. "Had I been good looking; had I worn silk hose and shown my calves while I was in the witness chair, the jury would have freed me."

The foreman of the jury said Mrs. Waterman's appearance had nothing

SHE WIELDS WICKED FILE

Beauty Manicures the Beast

Here's a lucky old elephant.

Who wouldn't be happy to have such a charming young lady to do one's nails? The pachyderm is probably some gay old skylark who does not care to have Mrs. Elephant know of his frivolity and so insisted that the photographer camouflage everything but his feet. The censors for the big new lunging brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows have, however, permitted it to be stated that the pachyderm is "one of a mammoth herd of track elephants—or nearly all the pachyderms in America—that will perform many colossal tricks in the gigantic main tent immediately following the stupendous and glittering introductory pageant," when the great double circus exhibits here Wednesday, Aug. 17.

The young lady who wields the nail file is Mario Morton, one of scores of girls who take part in the circus pageant. The girls and the baby elephants have much in common, for both earn a living through their ability to dance. When the circus exhibits here the dancers will be seen in the course of the gorgeous pageant processions. Then the battalion of elephants will file into the rings and hippodrome track by herds. They will conclude their performance in ensemble with a massive "quarter of a million pound act" that is said to surpass anything ever achieved before in animal subjugation.

In addition the circus will present scores of other dumb actors in four massive steel arenas, more than a thousand acrobatic sensations featuring famous men and women performers, and the greatest array of clowns in the history of the white tops.

U. S. PEACE CLAIMS BASED ON PART IN WAR

of Nations as the body which interprets the Versailles treaty has in effect said that it will not claim jurisdiction over matters occurring prior to the first meeting of the league and will look to the principal allied and associated powers for decisions on these points. This explains to some extent why President Harding vetoed Ambassador Harvey to represent the United States on the supreme council which is composed exactly of the principal allied and associated powers. In the supreme council henceforth will America raise all questions which may relate to mandates or rights which other powers claim under the Versailles pact. Instead of a treaty with Germany formally lodging all these rights in the United States, the government here prefers to consider that the rights already are vested in the principal allied and associated powers and that nothing more need to be done about that until a specific dispute arises when the United States will adopt the same attitude she has taken in the Yap mandate case. Acquiescence in the position taken by the United States on the Yap mandate has been informally indicated by Great Britain, France and Italy. After the Yap controversy is cleared up, it is not unlikely that Japan will acquiesce in the broad principle that America is entitled to be consulted in regard to all questions in the world relating in any way to the grants of authority or power made by Germany to the group known as the principal allied and associated powers.

U. S. Is Going Ahead
Other nations may not immediately agree to America's position but the United States is going ahead on the assumption that they do and has given the allied powers an opportunity to protest or object if they wish. America didn't exactly ask the other powers their views but stated plainly that course if foreign governments do not object or protest, she considers that silence gives consent.

It is precisely that delicate stage when the negotiations have reached. Do the allies feel that America as a participant in the war is entitled to the same rights under the armistice as America would have had under the treaty that followed the armistice? America has made it clear that she doesn't intend to intervene in European disputes or to assert her influence in matters that are accomplished facts as between the other powers but she does insist that America shall never be considered as having lost any rights growing out of European war when those rights in any way affect the interests of the United States.

GREAT PROSPERITY IS SEEN FOR SOUTH

Memphis.—Federal Reserve Board assurance of sufficient credit for harvesting and marketing the cotton crop has again kindled hope of prosperous times in the hearts of southern farmers.

Southern banks are aiding. Cotton firms are having little difficulty in obtaining credit to tide them over. Farmers, backed by this credit, will sell their crop this fall through state and county cooperative marketing organizations. For years all have tried to get their crop onto the market first, with the result that the price has been forced down. This year they will not be pushed for payment of their loans, and the market price will be maintained.

Rice growers of the south also are planning for cooperative marketing of their crops. Decision to organize was recently made at a meeting of 40 of the representative growers. Farmers will be asked to pool their rice, as the cotton crop is pooled. Association leaders are campaigning to get 50 per cent of the rice growers into the organization.

WRIT HALTS REMOVAL OF BAR FROM SALOON

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—Court Commissioner Sheldon, this city, Friday issued a temporary injunction restraining State Prohibition Commissioner Smith from ordering the removal of the bar in the saloon of Hugo Alby, Milwaukee. The injunction is returnable before Circuit Judge Nevens here on Aug. 16. The writ was served on Smith at noon. Kollinski is to confer with Morgan this afternoon to receive the attorney general's reply to his request that Morgan as attorney general represent 500 saloonkeepers as property owners in a test suit on the new Severson dry law. Morgan's answer will be a flat refusal.

CARUSO'S LATEST WILL DISCOVERED IN ITALY

By United Press Leased Wire
Naples.—Another new Caruso will was discovered Friday.

The existence of the last instrument was revealed when the late singer's lawyer at Florence wired the executor that Caruso drew his last will there only ten days ago.

Caruso instructed him, the lawyer said, not to reveal the will until three days after death.

The will previously accepted as the last drawn at Sorrento shortly after Caruso returned from America. Another was known to be in existence in New York.

Relatives believed there was a possibility that still others would be found. The terms of the Florence will were not divulged.

Fix Up Street

On the road leading from Neenah to Appleton and inside of the city limits of Appleton there is a break in the pavement caused by the concrete heaving.

The break extends clear across the road and has been there for at least a month. It does not give tourists a very favorable impression of a town to leave the road in such a condition for such a length of time. If the street department of the City of Appleton is too busy to fix this road they could at least send a man with a wheel-barrow and a little gravel and fix it up so that one could pass over it safely. I would be pleased to have you bring this to the attention of your city authorities.

Yours very truly,
Neenah Autoist

ELLINGTON COW LEADS ALL OTHERS IN MONTHLY TESTS

Bovine Owned by E. Lohrenz and Sons Makes 80-
Pound Record.

Star, a grade Guernsey cow owned by E. Lohrenz and sons, Ellington, lived true to her name, for she was the star producer for the month of June among 503 cows in the Ellington Cow Testing association, according to the report of Henry J. Lammers, official tester. She exceeded the butter fat average for the month by more than 12 pounds, finishing in the 80-pound class. Star produced 1,542 pounds of milk testing 5.2 per cent fat, equalling 80.1 pounds of butter fat.

Four cows produced more than 60 pounds of butter fat. They were owned by F. Zahrt, R. Puls, F. D. Breitrick and sons and H. Riesenweber. Fourteen averaged more than 50 pounds, and the total number testing more than 40 pounds was 79. Two Guernseys were sold at Fond du Lac during the month. The 503 cows submitting to tests had an average production of 31.9 pounds of butter fat and 825 pounds of milk.

D. P. Halloran's six grade Guernseys took first place for high herd production, averaging 1,059 pounds of milk and 45.3 pounds of butter fat. The second high herd was 15 pure bred and grade Guernseys owned by George Sauberlich, finishing with an average of 41.9 pounds of butter fat from 902 pounds milk average.

A herd of 15 purebred and grade Guernseys owned by F. D. Breitrick and sons remained above the 40-pound mark, finishing with an average of 40.1 pounds of butter fat and 886 pounds of milk. Another high herd was 13 grade Guernseys owned by R. Puls with a record of 39.4 and 901 pounds, respectively.

Cows producing more than 40 pounds of butter fat for the month were:

Dry Era And Poor Business Blamed For Crime Increase

A 214 per cent increase in crime in Outagamie co. during the last two years is shown by records in the office of Sheriff P. G. Schwartz.

The register shows that from the beginning of January, 1919, to March 19, 1920, V. R. Rule, former sheriff, had a total of 88 prisoners in his keeping. An examination of the register Thursday morning revealed that since January 3, this year, up till Wednesday night of this week, Sheriff P. G. Schwartz has incarcerated exactly the same number in the county jail.

This means that the number of arrests in the county during the first seven months of this year was as great as in the entire 15 months from Jan. 1, 1919 till the end of March, 1920. In cold figures, the increase is 214 per cent.

Sheriff Schwartz blames this enormous increase in crime on depressive business conditions and prohibition. During the 1919 period, 27 prisoners were charged with larceny, both petit and grand larceny, burglary and embezzlement. This year, 37 prisoners were registered on the same charges. Drunkenness, wife abandonment, and statutory offenses comprise the great bulk of all other crimes.

Prohibition is responsible for swelling the registered list, the sheriff believes, because offenders are brought before the courts now who would have received no attention in pre-prohibition days.

THE STAGE

"Smiling Through"

"Smiling Through" the play to be presented by the John H. Winninger Players at the Appleton Theatre, Sunday, Aug. 7 may indeed be called one of the best plays ever offered in repertoire.

The play is a late one. Jane Cowi.

J. G. McFarland with Winninger Players in "Smiling Through" at Appleton Theatre Sunday.

the star in the original production having just closed in the play three months ago. The play was procured by Mr. Winninger at an enormous expense and the production given it is one of the most magnificent ever offered in repertoire. If you would like a play of the spirit world, a play that is entirely different, a play of thrills and conflict with an unusual love story, "Smiling Through" will be worth while.

Italy has let down the bars on many items which were forbidden in parcel post shipments. The post-office now is instructed to accept jewelry, novelties, luxuries and other such articles for mailing, according to a detailed list on file with the department.

For Itching Eczema Old Sores and Piles

"I guarantee my ointment," says Peterson of Buffalo, "to cure eczema; to stop the itching at once and any reliable druggist will cheerfully refund your money if PETERSON'S OINTMENT doesn't do everything I say it will do."

William A. Carley of Franklin, N. Y., is surely a wise man. He writes: "I used PETERSON'S OINTMENT on a little boy suffering terribly with eczema. It did the work."

Then there is Alex. Louttel a brave fireman of Buffalo: "I had an old sore on my leg for many years. The best doctors failed. PETERSON'S OINTMENT entirely healed the sore quickly." And from over in Canada comes a letter from A. Blockely stating: "The best thing I ever hit for itching piles is PETERSON'S OINTMENT." A big box for 35 cents. GENERAL DELIVERY NOT FOR RESIDENTS

Renewed caution is demanded of the postoffice by Will H. Hays, postmaster general concerning use of general delivery service by persons known to be residents of Appleton, and especially minors.

Orders of the department require that all persons supposed to be residents of the city and who call at the postoffice must furnish their name and address in writing and the reasons for wishing this service instead of carrier delivery.

Minors are requested to furnish the same information, but must give, in addition, names of parents or guardians and produce written consent. This is done to prevent clandestine correspondence sometime carried on secretly by young girls with male acquaintances.

Applications for use of the general delivery will be approved only when the reasons are satisfactory to the postmaster.

CHICAGO IS TREATING ITS VISITORS KINDLY

There is no fleeing of visitors at the Pageant of Progress according to W. C. Miller who returned from Chicago Thursday morning. He said everything in the way of food and beverages is very reasonable and that the exhibitors in the various lines are permitted to take orders but are not allowed to sell their goods. Mr. Miller said the pageant suggests a big fair where plenty of entertainment is furnished and where everybody is out for a good time.

F. D. Pendell of Fond du Lac, superintendent of the Wisconsin division of the Northwestern road, was in Appleton Thursday on business.

Didn't Know His Brother

"My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctors and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on May's Wonderful Remedy, which he said described his case perfectly. The first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Druggists Everywhere. adv.

PLENTY OF BLACKBERRIES NEAR INDIAN RESERVATION

Blackberries don't seem to be very scarce around Hollister, Mountain, on the reservation, at Tilleda, Bowler and Gresham, according to a report in a Shawano paper which states the annual raid on the blackberry patches in that section has begun.

The berries are so plentiful there will be enough for all the pickers and they will sell for 15 cents per quart or less. Persons are not allowed to pick berries on the reservation without permits and these are hard to get for the Menominees are taking advantage of the huge crop and are picking for themselves.

MEXICAN BANDITS KEEP UP RAIDS OVER BORDER

Clarence Grunst has returned from the Mexican border where he has been on patrol duty with the One Hundred and Twentieth Squadron for a year, his term of enlistment having expired. He had many thrilling experiences while in the service and says the Mexicans cannot be trusted and that they still make raids into this country even though they are closely watched. Many residents of the United States also cross the border line on touring trips and for quenching their thirst. Mr. Grunst received his training at Camp Travis, Tex., which is one of the few training camps the government is to retain. He said that part of the country is very hot and that no rain had fallen for some time.

Hike to North

Two young men clad in kahki and with packs on their backs, passed through Appleton Thursday morning on their way to Marquette, Mich. They are hiking all the way to the north from Milwaukee, and sleeping at night in the open. They carry bedding, ponchos and a 3-day supply of food.

HORTONVILLE IS TO HAVE LARGEST FAIR IN HISTORY

Better Exhibits Than Ever Are Promised at Fair Aug. 31,
Sept. 1 and 2.

Hortonville fair will be the best and biggest in the history of Outagamie co. Its cattle exhibits will exceed those of any other year in quality and size. Its vegetable, machinery, educational and other displays will be a surprise to those who attend.

These are the predictions of Charles Schultz, president of the Outagamie County Agricultural society, who is in the midst of arrangements. The dates are to be Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2. Premium lists have been compiled and are being circulated. More entries than in any other year are expected by L. A. Carroll, secretary, to whom applications are to be addressed.

Committees of the county Holstein and Guernsey breeders association are selecting show animals from the finest herds. There will be about 25 from each breed. Those who attend the fair will have opportunity to see some of the most excellent animals in this part of Wisconsin. This method of working up a display is being attempted for the first time. Caretakers will relieve the owners of the animals from the duty of watching and feeding.

Large Prizes Offered

There will be a large exhibit of working and driving horses, purebred hogs of various varieties, sheep, poultry and other livestock. Attractive prizes also are offered for the grain, vegetable, fruit, flowers, dairy and household product displays. Needles.

work art, china painting and fancy work exhibits also are to draw good prizes. Pupils of rural schools are to show their drawing, sewing, manual training, penmanship and other work. This year's awards run into a large sum of money with the idea that much better displays will result.

Provide Amusements

Plenty of amusements are promised by the fair officials, but not all of the attractions have been contracted for. There will be a midway with several wholesome shows, refreshment stands and riding devices. Free acts will be given each afternoon. The Hortonville band has been engaged and will give continuous concerts all three days. Mr. Schultz promises detailed announcement of the program within a few days.

It is probable that a "peg" race will be held this year on at least one day. This feature always attracts the crowd and usually produces some good laughs. It consists of harnessing and hitching a horse and then driving around the race course twice. The first one to accomplish all this takes a prize.

Hortonville fair is so planned that it will be the big family gathering place of the country. Its aim is to be educational and no effort therefore is being spared to make the exhibits as elaborate as possible, and to obtain a large number of contestants. Gates are to be opened to the public at an early hour of the morning. Admission charges will be the same as in other years.

REGISTRATION AT COLLEGE EXPECTED TO BREAK RECORDS

Dormitories All Are Filled. Many Improvements Made During Summer.

Advance room reservations at Lawrence college indicate a greater registration than ever before. It was learned Tuesday at the college office. The dormitories all were engaged before the close of last semester and subsequent applicants have been placed upon the waiting lists until they have become too long. Now all of the students who are sending in applications for rooms are being placed in private homes in the city. In the college proper, indications are that there will be as many men students as coeds.

Extensive repairs and changes are being made in several of the buildings, notably Main hall and Brokaw hall. The entire basement of Main hall has been cemented and fitted up for class rooms. It has formerly been used merely for storage and for the law library. Three light, roomy class rooms have been finished and also a much better Lawrentian office with an outside entrance enabling students to enter the office without going down the long corridors of the first floor and down the inside stairway. One corridor completely separates the north and the south sides.

A suite of rooms is being made out of the open lobby of Brokaw hall for Prof. F. M. Ingler who will be the resident professor in the men's dormitory this year. The apartments formerly occupied by Dr. W. S. Naylor and Miss Mida Naylor have been made into dormitory rooms for students. Miss Naylor, who is to continue as matron of the dormitory, will have a suite of two rooms.

C. J. Primm, who has been the secretary of the Manitowish Chamber of Commerce, has been secured as an assistant professor in the commerce department. Mr. Primm served in Russia during the war.

BEAT UNCLE SAM TO P. O. WELFARE IDEA

Appleton Postoffice Already Had Department Suggested by Government.

Humanizing of the United States postal service took another step with establishment of a welfare department such as is found in many industrial firms. Postmaster Gustave Keller has been notified that the organization was established in the department at Washington July 27, with Dr. Lee Frankel as director.

As in many other steps toward service and efficiency, the Appleton postoffice already had done what the department now requests—the information of a local welfare association to operate on the same basis as the national. This was accomplished sometime ago with organization of the Appleton Postoffice association, which holds meetings monthly and discusses matters of interest to the employees and the service.

In the national council are representatives of each national organization of postal workers. These men are to hold office until the employees themselves elect a council from their ranks. The Red Cross is to cooperate in a plan to supply first aid kits to each postoffice and to the railway mail service.

Sanitation of buildings will be taken up by the United States Public Health service. Investigations are to be made of conditions under which employees work. One will be a test of lighting of building to determine whether clerks are subjected to undue eye strain.

COLLEGE CONSERVATORY TO INCREASE FACILITIES

The home just east of Lawrence Conservatory of Music which is owned by the college, is to be used this fall by the conservatory of music which has been greatly handicapped in recent years by not having a sufficient number of practice rooms.

Prof. W. E. Rogers and W. F. Raney who with their families have occupied apartments in the building, have just moved out, and it is expected that work of remodeling the home will be commenced at once. Present plans include a class room, studios and a number of practice rooms.

Woodyards Crowded Very little pinewood is arriving in Appleton at present principally because there is no place to pile it. Every available foot of yard room has been utilized until a portion of the present supply is consumed. The amount of wood on hand is more than double that of other years.

Doctors Resent Efforts To Fix Maximum Charges

Physicians Here Disagree With Attitude of Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Appleton doctors attach no importance to the action taken early in the week by directors of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, when they fixed the rates doctors could charge for hospital service at $35 per week and established a maximum charge of $1,000 for operations.

Dr. George T. Hegner scouts the idea that the hospital's action threatens to divide the physicians of the country into two camps. "There will be no marked difference of opinion among doctors, he believes.

"What John Hopkins hospital does, has no bearing on Appleton or in fact on any other community in the country," he said. "Of course the hospital has the privilege of making whatever rules it sees fit but it may experience some difficulty in enforcing those rules. The doctors who practice there may go somewhere else if they dislike the new rules. Suppose Dr. Howard Young has served on Johns Hopkins hospital staff and suppose he decides to move to the medical department of the University of Minnesota. Now Dr. Young is former President Woodrow Wilson's favorite physician. It will make no difference to Mr. Wilson where Dr. Young is because if he wants Dr. Young's services he is going to get Dr. Young.

"It would hardly seem wise for a hospital to dictate to physicians on the matter of charges. A doctor's personal reputation may be a great asset to a hospital but it is something the doctor carries with him if he moves to another place.

No Right to Fix Charges "Doctors' charges for medical services are adjusted by the ethics of the profession and public opinion. It would be virtually impossible for a doctor to 'hold up' people. Public opinion would prevent that. The matter of fees for medical services is something that cannot be moulded. Besides, what right has anyone to fix rates for another? That is a tendency toward socialism."

"In talking about fixing fees that doctors may charge, people forget that a doctor has many different classes of people to deal with," declares Dr. G. A. Ritchie. "They forget that if we serve the wealthy we are also called upon to serve the destitute. When a person is sick and his life at stake, the doctor does not ask whether the patient will be able to pay before hurrying to render all the service that his skill and training has made possible. Very often much of the doctor's work is charitable. For much of his work he is paid only in part. Consequently there must be an equalization of charges to enable the profession to survive at all.

Many Factions Enter "Suppose the hospital tells me I must charge no more than $35 a week for medical attendance to its patients. A certain patient persists in calling me a dozen times a day and perhaps as many times each night. Can I answer all those calls for that amount? This is another factor that has to be considered in discussing fee fixing. Individuals are different. Suppose two patients have the same trouble. One is in a more serious condition than the other. One requires comparatively little attention while the other requires the exercise of much skill and care to effect a cure. Would it be fair to charge each alike?

"Medical societies do fix rates for certain services. But there are 'sliding rates' which may be adjusted to all the circumstances of the case. John Hopkins hospital sets $1,000 as the maximum fee for an operation. How many people in this country are ever asked to pay $1,000 for an operation? If John D. Rockefeller wants a certain surgeon to perform a certain operation, the cost is no consideration to him. The fact is he wants that doctor and he is going to have him regardless of money.

"In any line of service a man may become famous for the quality of work he does. Would it be fair to fix his rate of remuneration at the same as that paid the unskilled, unlearned man?"

Dr. W. J. Frawley is of the opinion that the attempt at rate fixing would indicate that doctors are profiteering which is not true. He points out that a doctor must now spend eight to ten years to obtain his education and training before he is permitted to practice. This is so costly nowadays that it is almost prohibitive. He declares that while a doctor spends a fortune in acquiring his knowledge, yet very few of them ever become more than comfortably well off.

HAVE PUT END TO P. O. ROBBERIES

Postoffice Department Lauds Force for Capture of Mail Bandits.

Postoffice inspectors and employees are lauded by Will H. Hays, postmaster general, in the latest bulletin received by Postmaster Gustave Keller from Washington, D. C. for their efforts by which there was an almost complete cessation of mail robberies. Their work has been done quietly and secretly, giving the public little opportunity to realize what has been accomplished.

Mr. Hays says that these men did a definite public service. There were 36 major robberies and many smaller ones, including the Neenah and Kaukauna thefts. Money and securities valued at $6,000,000 were taken, more than half of which has been recovered. The inspectors arrested 126 men, have convicted 34, discharged or acquitted 15 and have 77 prosecutions pending. Heavy penalties have been given each robber. With this effective work of bringing thieves to justice, the arming of postoffice employees, and offer of a reward of $5,000 to any employee catching a robber, these crimes practically have ceased.

PATHMASTER RESIGNS; SYSTEM OUT OF DATE

Adolph Muttart has resigned as pathmaster of the road district southwest of the city in the town of Grand Chute because he could get no assistance to keep the highways in condition. Mr. Muttart found many of the farmers are opposed to the old-time method of looking after the roads as used in the township and refuse to help because these highways should be patrolled by full-time men in accordance with the state law. Nobody has offered to succeed Mr. Muttart and it is said that the roads therefore will have no further attention for the remainder of the season. Very little road work has been done anywhere in the township because of the use of the antiquated system, it is said, while other townships have roads resembling boulevards, maintained by the county highway commission.

MUSKEGON WOMAN NOW FEELS FINE

Mrs. Wikman Says Nothing Reached Her Case Until She Tried Tanlac—Health Restored

"Tanic is the only thing that ever helped me," said Mrs. Anna Wikman, 47 Yuba St., Muskegon, Mich., "and that is saying a great deal, for I sought relief from my troubles in every direction.

"I am feeling better now than I have for ten years and it's all due to Tanlac. For three years I suffered from stomach trouble, nervousness and a generally weak, run-down condition. I had no appetite and there were many things I couldn't eat without their making me sick. I was so nervous I could hardly keep still and my back hurt like it was breaking in two. My nervousness and misery robbed me of many a night's sleep. It was a drug for me to get through my housework, for I couldn't even sweep out a room without being tired out completely.

"Well, I am certainly grateful to the good people who permitted their statements to be published in the papers, for that is how I came to get Tanlac. My appetite now is so good I can hardly eat enough to satisfy it. I am eating whatever I please and nothing ever hurts me. I sleep fine, never feel nervous or have a pain of any kind and, in fact, am a well and happy woman. I have told many of my friends about Tanlac and am glad to give this public statement for what it may be worth to others." adv.

MENASHA IS EAGER FOR POST-SEASON SERIES OF GAMES

Purse of $1,000 Is Suggested as Inducement for Three Game Series.

A $1,000 purse may be the attraction which will bring the Menasha and Appleton league teams into a three game series at the close of the season.

C. E. Pierce of the Menasha team management has been in Appleton to confer with August Brandt as to whether such a series could be arranged. With as substantial a stake as $1,000 in view, it is understood the Brandts would not be adverse to making a bargain. No decision has been made but the local team is considering the proposition.

One question the managements of both teams are asking before closing the arrangements is "Do the fans want such a series?" If opinion favors it the agreement will be clinched immediately, it was said.

Should the series be arranged, two straight games will decide. Whether the first game will be played at Menasha or Appleton will be determined by a draw. Then the other city will have the second game and the place of the third game will be a toss-up.

Sport Views And News

The "hard luck championship" of Wisconsin probably will be decided in a series of ball games between the Kaukauna club of Fox River Valley League and the Green Bay team of the Lake Shore league. Those two teams are firmly entrenched in the cellars of their organizations. The peculiar part of the whole thing is that both are good ball teams but have failed to get any of the breaks of the game. Kaukauna has played rattling good ball at times but usually falls down in the pinches. Green Bay, also has shown good form but the boys never get a break and one game is lost after another. Despite these reverses the hometown fans have stood loyally with the teams. The hard question to determine is whether the winner or the loser of the series is entitled to the title of "Hard Luck Champions."

Another good manager gone wrong. Johnny Evers it is said, has quit the helm of the Chicago Cubs and Bill Philifer, star backstop has been given the reins. Evers has had a stormy season. The Chicago team haven't been going good and murmurs of complaint have been heard frequently during the past month. Evers curbed one revolt when he suspended Hippo Vaughn and sent Steve O'Farrell home for a two weeks' vacation but he couldn't get the team traveling right. There is a lot of internal dissension in the Cub machine and it looks as if there will have to be a thorough house cleaning before the factious are wip out. It that Wild Bill Dame rumor has it that Wild Bill Donavan is skating on pretty thin ice with the Phillies who are firmly entrenched in the tail end position of the National league. This Philadelphia club hasn't shown a thing this season despite the fact that during the spring training stunts some pretty fair material was available. However, "Wild Bill" isn't to blame entirely for his cellar championships because the club owners have sold the cream of his players to the New York Giants taking a batch of recruits in return. Not since the days of Pat Moran have the Phillies been on victory road.

Has Red Faber crumbled under the strain? It is possible that the load of pitching winning ball for a losing club is beginning to tell on the ace of the White Sox hurling staff. Faber has been beaten his last two starts and the Windy City fans are wondering if their sure bet winner is on the downgrade. So far this season Faber's remarkable box work has been the outstanding feature of major league baseball.

It's funny how different a ball player acts when he gets a change of pasture. Take for instance Goldie Rapp. He came to the Giants hurriedly as a star but failed to get the world afe while with the New York ers. McGraw swapped the infielder to the Phillies and the infielder has shown a complete reversal of form. He has been off on a batting spree and his fielding stunts have been good enough to make McGraw wish he had him back.

ST. ALOYSIUS TEAM IS TO PLAY THIRD WARDERS

St. Aloysius young men's baseball team will get back into action next Sunday when it engages the Third ward amateur team at Jones park. The Third ward aggregation is managed by Dudley Pierce. It has played four games this season and won three. Reider and Boehme will be the battery for the St. Aloysius team and Wood and McGinnis for the Third ward. Sharp will substitute in the box if necessary.

WILLARD'S MANAGER TO DISCUSS TERMS FOR FIGHT

By United Press Leased Wire New York—Ray Archer, acting for Jess Willard, will discuss terms Friday with Tex Rickard for a return bout between Jack Dempsey and Willard. The former champion has empowered Archer to close for him. Rickard said today he would not stage the contest unless he could be given absolute assurance that Willard could and would get into condition.

YANKS GAIN WHILE LOSING BALL GAME

Double Defeat for Cleveland Puts Losing Yanks in First Place.

By United Press Leased Wire New York—With the good help of the trusty Washington Senators the Yankees are again in front in the American league.

The Yanks went into the lead by a margin of one point because they couldn't help it.

In losing to the Tigers they played like the victims of a hypnotist with Washington waving a hand and telling them to stop up a notch.

If the Hugginses follow their usual steps they will be back in second place tonight.

The Pirates are again full speed ahead while the Giants are creaking with discussion.

McGraw has been forced to send his fighting Earl Smith back to New York.

Johnny Evers one of the smartest men in baseball, again has failed as manager. Poor health coupled with a fiery disposition and an inclination to ride his players, has caused him to be deposed in favor of Bill Killefer. Since the early part of the season the Cubs have been telling friends that they could not be driven by an iron rod.

TWO TEAMS ARE TIED FOR LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

Three good games are scheduled to take place in the Industrial league Saturday afternoon. The Appleton Woolen Mill team will meet the Northern Boiler squad. Fox River paper makers will play at Interlake park against the Appleton Coated Paper Co. men. Kimberly-Clark will remain on her own diamond and meet the Valley Iron works team and Combined Locks will play the Interlake squad at Combined Locks.

The season ends a week from Saturday and the championship will still be a toss-up for Kimberly-Clark and Combined Locks are still tied for first place, each team having lost one game.

BOXING COMMISSION IS SILENT ON JACK

By United Press Leased Wire New Haven—The Connecticut Athletic-commission took no action regarding an proposal to have Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, box in this state at its recent meeting when rules and regulations were drawn up. It was stated on Thursday. Chairman Moses Kink. Tate boxing instructor, had expressed opposition to allowing Johnson to appear but the other commissioners did not define their attitude. There had been a report that promoters in planning bouts for the winter had in view some heavyweight events.

Burnett of Tacoma, president of the Pacific International league here on a business trip said on Thursday that none of the White Sox players acquired by a jury Tuesday evening need look for a job with his league. MIKE GIBBONS EASILY WINS FROM AUGIE RATNER

EVERETT TRUE

Too Much Class For Minor League

Baltimore—Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles is a big league ball club playing in the minors.

The birds could sub for any team in the majors and climb.

They so far outclass other teams in the International there is no interest in the pennant fight. There is no fight.

Few losing days come to the Birds. They win so often a victory means nothing to them except another day's work.

Last fall Dunn defied the draft. He had promised Baltimore fans he would get a winner together and hold it.

He kept his word.

Record after record has been smashed by this steam roller ball club this summer.

Jack Ogden, veteran right hander, passed the best records for winning streaks in the International and came near equalling the mark of 29 straight, held by Rube Marquard. Ogden won 13 in a row.

Jack Bentley, first baseman right hand pitcher and slugger is the Babe Ruth of the minors. He has pitched nine games and won them all. Playing first base when he isn't in the box, he is leading the league in hitting with a mark of .403. He has socked out nearly 20 home runs. He batted safely in 25 consecutive games. A major league club has bid $60,000 for him.

Max Bishop, young second baseman, played nearly two months without making a bobble. The majors are after him.

Lefty Groves, young southpaw from the Blue Ridge mountains, has won close to 20 games, his first year out. Dunn wouldn't take $25,000 for him.

Joe Boley, shortstop is the fielding sensation of the league. Money couldn't buy him from the Birds.

No club can stop the Birds. They win whether cuppled or not.

The club has registered over 70 home-runs this year.

Bill Holden is close behind Bentley in the fence busting business and Bishop is a runner-up.

The Birds equalled the record of the old Corsicana club of the Texas league by winning 27 games in a row.

In two seasons the Orioles haven't lost three games straight.

GEORGES SEES HOW HE TOOK COUNT FROM JACK

By United Press Leased Wire Paris—Georges Carpentier could not resist the temptation to see him self as others saw him in Jersey City on the afternoon of July 2. Breaking his vacation for a night Carpentier came to Paris on Tuesday to study the moving pictures of the fight with Dempsey. He showed particular interest in the events of the fourth round which indicate that the final knockout punch was a hard right drive to the heart, and not to the jaw as reported here.

Georges returned to his summer villa immediately afterward.

DOWNEY OFFERED $20,000 FOR FIGHT IN JERSEY CITY

By United Press Leased Wire Jersey City, N. J.—Bryan Downey can have $20,000 for meeting the winner of the Mike Gibbons-Jeff Smith bout, Promoter John Jennings said here Friday. Jennings also said he made Johnny Wilson an offer to meet Downey here this winter. He did not name the amount.

Believe Sox Guilty

Regardless of the fact that the Black Sox were acquitted by a jury those who confessed to throwing games are guilty in the eyes of the court of public opinion.

They have already been punished more than if they had been imprisoned.

They are now only parabals among their own kind and they have deprived themselves of a lucrative and very pleasant means of earning a livelihood.

Up to now baseball has been considered a clean sport.

No laws have been passed, making it a penalty to play dishonestly.

But they should be.

The only way baseball and other sports, such as wrestling and boxing, can be kept on a high moral plane is to have laws regulating them.

The history of the Black Sox is now a closed chapter in the book in baseball.

Let their example suffice to keep the game purged.

Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding. Then he smiled.

"Take the cover off, kid, I'll sign underneath on the yarn," said Harry. Boys used to want to be presidents. But in building summer arcades, that ambition is divided.

Why Laugh?

Jess Willard is practically certain to get another chance.

Tex Rickard has the word of the Kansas potato king and oil millionaire that he is in shape and so that six weeks of intensive training would make him fit to fight.

Lots of folks laugh when Willard's name is mentioned. They can't forget what happened at Maumee Bay. It's natural they shouldn't.

One thing's in Willard's favor. He is sincere. It would be a different kind of a fight.

Rodskins

Earle T. Jimerson, fullblooded Indian, has signed to pitch baseballs with his southpaw for the New York Yankees.

Pittsburg is the only other big league club in the pennant fight that owns a rodskin pitcher.

And the fan who picks the Pirates and the Yanks to play the world series this fall hasn't had judgment.

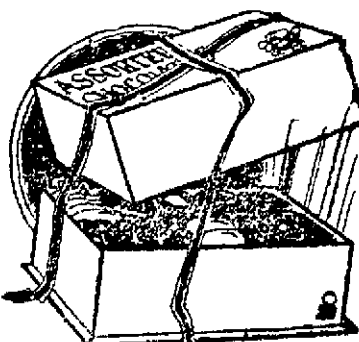

Jimerson might jump in and do the Huggmen a lot of good.

Chief Yellow Horse, the Pirate pitcher, is a winner in his first year out.

MERCHANTS PLAY INDIANS SUNDAY

In line with the promise of Manager Ray Kasten that his team would meet the swiftest amateur teams in this section before the season closes, the West End Merchants will play the Onelda Indians at Onelda at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

The red men have played 15 games this season and maintaining their ancient traditions, have proven themselves a hard team to beat. If the merchants succeed in trouncing the Indians they will feel worthy of meeting any amateur team hereabouts that might be put up to them. Turner and Schabow will be the battery for the Merchants.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: McWeeney re-hodge in the ninth inning with the bases filled and none out and retired the side, the White Sox beating the Red Sox 5 to 4.

Home runs by Cobb and Jones with poor pitching by Shawkey and terrible fielding by Muesel, enabled Detroit to beat the Yanks 5 to 3, but the New Yorkers were forced into first place.

The Senators mauled the Indians twice in a double header and put the champions in second place. Johnson outpitched Coveleskie in the first and won 3 to 1. Erickson turned in the second 3 to 1. Washington made it ten straight.

The Athletics scored four runs in the ninth inning but the Browns won 7 to 5.

The Cardinals made it three straight over the Giants with a 1 to 0 victory. Snyder and Dillhoefer were thrown out of the game for fighting.

The Reds and the Robins divided a double bill. Gribbs won the first 2 to 1. But the Red rookie Donohue grabbed the second 5 to 2.

Hamilton held the Phils to five hits and the Pirates increased their lead over the Giants with a 5 to 0 victory.

The Cubs under their new manager, Bill Killefer, were again mauled by the Braves, 13 to 5.

WOMEN SAME ALL OVER WORLD, PRINCE SAYS

Washington—"Women, eastern or western they're all the same."

Crown Prince Zaradachno will tell you so. Some day Zaradachno will rule the 10,000,000 people of Millan, a little principality in northeastern Egypt, where his father, Abou Hassan, is now sultan.

When Zaradachno mounts the throne his royal consort will be Miss Kathern Spiegel, famous Kentucky beauty whom he recently married. Incidentally, Miss Spiegel probably will be the first American girl to occupy a throne.

"The writale, Kipling, it is he who says the east and the west, they nevare meet," the prince said. "May be the men, they nevare meet, but the women, ah!

"Women in your country wear the short skirt, sometimes the bare knee. In my country they wear the veil. But that is the outside only.

"The woman in the harem and your suffraget—get under their skins and you find no difference.

"I love America and the American woman. That's why I married one of them."

"IRON COURTSHIP" MAY FREE MAN FROM PRISON

Chicago—"The iron courtship" of Marie Tambore may soon win a husband for her.

For through her labors, efforts are being made to obtain a pardon for Joe Bousk, serving a 14 year sentence for the murder of a policeman.

Twice a week, for five years, Marie has gone through the iron gates of Joliet penitentiary to console and cheer her sweetheart.

Neighbors shake their heads when Marie passes down the street with flowers and boxes of home-made pies and goodies for "her Joe."

"Why doesn't she forget him?" they say.

Marie pays no heed. "In my heart I know that Joe is not bad, and is not guilty," she says. "I love only Joe, and I'll wait 50 years for him if needs sorry."

Recently Joe's mother on her death bed, asked to see her boy before she died. Everything was done to obtain his release for the visit, but the requests were turned down, until—

Marie interceded for him.

Joe Bousk came home without a guard and stayed for a week. Then Marie accompanied him back to the penitentiary. Each is 24.

CRUISE WAS A FIZZLE IN BRAVES' SUN FIELD

Boston—One reason why the Boston Braves' machine is walking along is Walter Cruise. Last year Cruise played the sun field, but he wasn't a Tris Speaker or Harry Hooper in riding the ball down. He couldn't look at the sun. Fred Mitchell switched him to left this year. He is a changed ball player now and gets them all. Cruise is a consistent .300 hitter and here's the extra thrill when he's at bat that he, may tear off a circuit smash and break up the game.

DAWES PRACTICES WHAT HE PREACHES ON HIS NEW JOB

Harding's Budget Slasher Puts in Long Hours in Washington.

By H. B. Hunt.

Special to Post-Crescent

Washington.—He practices what he preaches, does Charles G. Dawes, Uncle Sam's budget commissioner. When Dawes came to Washington to show Uncle Sam how to save money, he recognized living in hotels is both expensive and inefficient. Quiet surroundings, agreeable companionship and some semblance of home life, he holds, is necessary to keep a man toned up and fit for his work.

Also, he figured, while two may not be able to live quite as cheaply as one, they can live a lot more cheaply together than apart.

So it was that an arrangement was made in the common interest of efficiency, economy and comradeship, whereby Dawes and his old pal, General Pershing, share an apartment out at 2029 Connecticut avenue.

Before this hour of relaxation comes, however, Dawes will have put in a busy day.

Always Up Early.

Out of bed early—a habit he acquired even before he went overseas, with the A. E. F.—he is through with his bath, shave and morning papers before breakfast is announced, at 8.

Breakfast over, he bids Pershing adieu for the day. The general will ride down to the War Department. But Dawes will walk.

It's two miles from the apartment at the top of the Connecticut avenue hill to the treasury building. Dawes covers the distance in about 40 minutes.

Shortly after 9:30 each morning the door of room 332½ treasury building swings open and a slender slightly stooped man in a gray suit, rather loose across the shoulders and baggy at the knees, enters. "Helen Maria," Dawes is on the job.

He may go to see the president. The cabinet officers come to him. An "open door" policy is maintained.

Works at Lunch.

At 12:30 a halt is called for lunch. This usually is taken with someone who has asked an engagement on budget matters.

Normally, the day ends anywhere between 5 and 6 o'clock. That ordinarily means a walk back to the apartment and dinner with Pershing. But often he takes dinner downtown and goes back to the office for a night session. These have run as late as 12:30 a. m.

Dawes isn't "hard-boiled." He is essentially human and tender hearted. The real Dawes is revealed by the man who builds and maintains hotels for unemployed men and women, who adopts into his home an orphaned boy and girl, who recognizes so keenly the sufferings and hardships of soldiers on the firing line that he stands up before senators and tells them straightout they have been quibbling over nothing while men died.

DRY LAWS AND HEAT FRIGHTEN SUZANNE

French Tennis Star Says She Likes Swimming and Dancing Better.

By Frank Tuckfield

(Copyright 1921 by Post-Crescent)
Paris.—"You know, I can wield a racket, swim, dance and do lots of other things better than I can talk."

It was in excellent English that I was greeted by Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, woman's tennis champion of France, who is sailing July 30 to try for the national woman's singles championship of America.

Tall, lithe and graceful, Mlle. Lenglen moves with fawnlike ease and freedom. With deeply tanned skin, bobbed hair, vivacious eyes and ever-ready smile, she gives the impression of a free, unfettered, joyous youth. She is a wisp of a girl whose only aim is to live and to enjoy.

American Friends.
"I am getting ready for the longest journey I have ever made," she said exuberantly. "I cannot tell you the joy with which I am looking forward to visiting America. I have so many American friends."

"I always wanted to cross the Atlantic and see that great wonderful country where life seems to flow so fast and everyone is so prosperous and well dressed."

Here she broke off. Then, in a lower tone.
"I'll let you in on a secret. The reason I put off my sailing date a week was because I feared my wardrobe would be too scanty. American girls are so stylish. I was afraid my dresses would suffer by comparison. So I persuaded mother to delay a week, so as to enable me to visit the Rue de la Paix."

Fears the Heat.
"Are you afraid of the American players?" I asked.
"Not exactly," she rejoined. "But you never know what may happen in tennis. What I fear more than anything is the heat. I understand our little heat wave would go almost unnoticed in New York."

"What do you consider your strongest asset in the game?" I asked.
"Accuracy," she replied. "You know, I began to play when I was 11. Now I am 21. My father used to map out the tennis court in numbered squares and tell me to place the ball in a certain number. When I could do this he would place a handkerchief on the court and tell me to hit it. After this he would place a five-franc piece on the court and he would not let me stop until I could hit that."

"But please don't think tennis is

DENIES CHARGE

This is Major Bruce R. Campbell, who emphatically denies all charges made against him by Mrs. Emma Bergdoll before a congressional committee. Mrs. Bergdoll claimed that Campbell received $5,000 to be used in securing the release of her son, Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader who escaped to Germany. Campbell's father and other witnesses corroborated his statements to the committee.

The only thing I can do. I play tennis because it amuses me. I shall stop playing it the day it begins to bore me. There are heaps of other things I like as much if not better.

"I dance, and they tell me not so badly. Of course, I know all American dances."

"I simply adore swimming. I find it keeps me in splendid form. I do a lot of riding and automobiling."

"Is it true that you are going to get married?" I asked. A deep blush appeared from beneath the tan of her face.

"Married?" she cried. "I am not even engaged. I suppose I shall find the right man some day, but so far he hasn't appeared. When I do begin collecting for a home though, I shall be plentifully supplied with tea services, powder boxes and bonbonnières which have been showered upon me."

"Do I want to get married? That's a different question.
"By the way, there's one other thing I fear in America besides the heat. That's prohibition. You know, we French will never be able to understand why people should be deprived of wine at their meals."

SEEK ANOTHER MEMBER OF HUGE "CRIME TRUST"

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—Melville Reeves, alleged member of the "rober trust," said to be headed by John W. Worthington was sought by police Thursday. Reeves has been indicted with Worthington and others following the discovery of stolen securities in their possession.

Postal authorities link the name of the band with the $3,000,000 Sinclair Oil company bond robbery, the Chicago Dearborn station mail robbery and the Council Bluffs, Iowa, postal theft. Worthington is now in jail.

GIRLS! LEMONS

BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quart of harmless and fragrant lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin. Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate. adv.

TAX ON LETTERS IS SURE TO BE IN BILL

Measure Favored by Harding Would Raise $70,000,000 in Year.

Special to Post-Crescent
Washington.—The extremity to which congress is forced in its search for new sources of revenue is illustrated by the proposal, sanctioned by President Harding, that letter postage be increased from 2 cents to 3 cents, the proceeds from the increase to be turned into the treasury as general revenue.

It now seems certain that this letter tax will be included in the new revenue bill.

Between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000 annually would be raised by this letter tax, with practically no additional expense for collection.

While the president has indicated he favors the higher letter postage as an equitable means of helping to prevent a deficit in the Postoffice Department due to increasing losses in parcel post business, the Postoffice Department disclaims responsibility for or interest in the proposed increase.

The extent to which postal revenues have been shrinking is indicated by reports from the 50 largest cities for the month of June.

Chicago's postal revenue for June was $65,000 behind June, 1920. Philadelphia showed a shrinkage of $131,000. Cleveland of $70,000, Brooklyn of $71,000, Pittsburgh $41,000, Buffalo $32,000 Akron $35,000, and St. Paul $30,000.

New York City in June showed an increase, but the gain there was more than offset by losses elsewhere. It is understood a postal deficit of close to $40,000,000 will be reported for the fiscal year 1920, reported last December, was $17,270,482.

NIGHT RIDERS WARN PEOPLE TO BE GOOD

Conroe, Tex.—Two hundred white robed members of the Ku Klux Klan, led by a horseman carrying the stars and stripes and another bearing the tery cross of the order, paraded here late Wednesday night.

The impressive ceremony was given an atmosphere of warning by banners warning that gambling and bootlegging must stop and that "we want no mulatto children."

KU KLUX KLAN SUES WESTERN NEWSPAPER

Los Angeles, Calif.—Suit for $150,000 damages was on file Thursday against the Los Angeles Evening Express with the "Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, a corporation," appearing as plaintiff.

The complaint alleged libel in charging the Ku Klux Klan with responsibility for the outrages in raiding parties in the south.

Promises to show the Klan was not responsible when the case comes to trial, was made.

OLDEST LIFEGUARD

Chicago.—Mrs. Anna Amacker, at 83, is the oldest lifeguard in the world.

Also she is a grandmother to six children.

You'll find her on the beach here every day of the swimming season. The life-saving job is self-imposed, but Mrs. Amacker follows it regularly all summer long. She has saved several persons from drowning, and has taught hundreds of youngsters how to swim.

Few on the beach can beat this octogenarian at either the high dive or the Australian crawl.

No old-fashioned bathing suits for her. She wears a happy medium between the Annette Kellerman and the style that was in vogue 20 years ago.

"It's silly — this censure of modern suits," she says. "With the suits the girls wear today, they can really swim. And they do. No suit is immodest so long as it is intended for service."

Mrs. Amacker — "Grandma" the Guard — they call her at the beach here — was born in Switzerland and "learned to swim" in the mountain lakes. She has been swimming ever since she can remember and never lets a day go by without a plunge into the lake.

SOUTHERN COTTON CROP IN DANGER

Hot Dry Weather Is Needed to Save Crop—Pest Spreading Over Big Area.
Memphis, Tenn.—Hot, dry weather in August is necessary to save the south's cotton crop.
This is the consensus of opinion among the agriculture extension forces of the cotton belt.
The boll weevil is damaging thousands of acres. Agricultural experts of the Mississippi delta predict destruction of the crop in many sections if damp, cool weather should develop in the next two months.
The weevil multiplies rapidly and spreads over vast territory in cool damp weather. Hot, dry weather retards the weevil's progress and destroys the young.
The weevil is now worse than ever before in history, says Dr. E. R. Lloyd, director of the Memphis Farm Bureau, who has just completed a tour of the cotton belt.
Dr. Lloyd found the cotton crop from three to five weeks late in some localities.
In sections of Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee and Alabama hundreds of acres of cotton are being plowed up by the farmers and fall feed crops planted.
These farmers have been advised to take such action by the agricultural extension forces of the various states, due to the small stand of cotton.
Southern farm life today is in a different from one year ago. Last year cotton prices were good, but many farmers held their crops for higher prices. Today barns shelter hundreds of bales that last year would have brought 40 to 80 cents a pound, but today could not be sold for 15 cents.
This year's cotton crop will be the cheapest raised in history. The country schools were closed early so the children might enter the fields. There is plenty of labor at $1 per day, compared with $3 per day last year.

SHARP DECLINES IN GRAIN MARKET

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—Big declines in grain prices marked trading in the Chicago grain mart Friday. The slump was partly due to hedging by those who have overbought the market. The passage of a law in Minnesota designed to restrict speculation in grain made traders here a bit nervous. The heavy unemployment situation, both locally and over the country, was a contributing factor. The brokers are wondering how big prices can be paid for bread when there are so many jobless.

Provisions were lower.
Wheat, September opened off 1/4 at $1.21 1/2 and closed 3 lower. December wheat opened unchanged at $1.24 1/2 and closed off 1/4.
